Email: timbermen1972@gmail.com

Important Criteria

Please note that applications will ONLY BE ACCEPTED from applicants who have chosen a forestry, natural resources or forest product manufacturing field of study. Applicants who have chosen a broad base field such as environmental science will be asked to provide a list of courses for that field.

Applications are also accepted for non-degree courses such as lumber grading, timber harvesting certificates, or other fields that directly impact the forest products industry.

Should you need to include more information than any page allows space for please include your information on supplemental pages noting which page and question you are referencing.

Past award recipients may apply again using the current year's application form. Past applications are not kept on file by MAT.

Submission

Applicants may email, fax, or mail their application and must be postmarked or received prior to March 4, 2022.

SELF-EVALUATION AND EDUCATIONAL OBJECTIVE

We ask the following questions to learn more about your reasons for applying for this scholarship and your ability to benefit from it. The length of your response and their order are up to you. Please type or print your response on separate sheets of paper and enclose with your application. We are interested in knowing about the following:

1. What events, activities, or achievements have contributed most to your self-development?
2. Discuss a situation in which you had significant responsibility and what you learned from it.
3. Discuss what you consider to be the timber/forest industry's biggest challenge.
4. Discuss how you perceive that your career aspiration might benefit the forest products industry in the future.
